THEFTS FROM GRIMSBY HOMES

Money And Jewelry Taken From Homes On Nelson Boulevard — Citizens Warned To Keep Doors And Windows Fastened.

During their absence, thieves gained entrance to the home of Howard Ingelhart, Nelson Boulevard, sometime during the weekend by paying open the side window, and made a get-away with a quantity of goods including a gold pocket watch, lady's plain gold wrist watch, 4 rings, including a gold ring set with 3 rubies, a moon agate, a blood stone and a diamond set black onyx; a chain bracelet, 5 pairs lady's new hose, fifteen or twenty dollars in bills, box of old coins and American coppers amounting to about eight or ten dollars, 2 Canadian Jubilee silver dollars, 3 pairs of men's new socks and a man's glove for the right hand.

A Murray Street residence was also entered sometime over the weekend while the family was away but the only thing reported missing is a child's tank containing a small sum of money.

Police are asking that citizens take every precaution and keep their doors and windows securely fastened as there are still thieves working in this area.

Reunion of Boyer Family On Saturday

A pleasant outing was enjoyed when Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Boyer graciously entertained about fifty members of the Boyer family who assembled at their home near Grimsby on Saturday last. Ideal weather conditions permitted the serving of dinner and supper on the spacious lawn, while during the afternoon a program of races for the children was run off, prizes being awarded the winners. A ball game was also much enjoyed.

Everyone present was so much pleased with the success of this, their first reunion, that it was unanimously decided to hold a similar event next year. In view of this, an election of officers was held, Mr. Arthur Boyer of Waterloo being made president for the ensuing year.

Vimy Memorial And Remembrance Day To Be Observed At Beach

Vimy Memorial and Women's Remembrance Day, under the auspices of the Women's Improvement Society, will be observed in the Boys' Tavern on Grimsby Beach, on Sunday, August 2nd, when Mrs. Millicent MacKinnon, an outstanding and widely travelled speaker will address the congregation, both morning and evening.

Mrs. Millicent MacKinnon of Toronto, is the daughter of the late William Forbes-Mitchell, Esq., soldier and statesman, and close friend of Lord Roberts, of whom she saw much in her childhood. Her mother was a Rajput princess, daughter of the Maharajah Bhikhar Singh who was commander-in-chief of the King of Oude's forces during the great Indian Mutiny of 1857. Both he and his daughter (Mrs. MacKinnon's mother) were saved by the British from being killed during the Mutiny and they later embraced Christianity.

The birthplace of Mrs. MacKinnon was the palace of Shalimar and the beautiful Indian Love Lyrics were written in her home by her friend the author, Laurence Hope, who was in private life the wife of General Nicholson. On her father's side Mrs. MacKinnon comes of a distinguished Scottish family. Her great-grandmother was Lady Flora Forbes-Mitchell, lady-in-waiting to the Princess Robeslaie, wife of Prince Charles Edward Stuart known as the Pretender. Sir Alexander Mitchell and his wife, Lady Flora Forbes, are said to have been the prototypes of Porgy and Bess. Mrs. MacKinnon's father, served throughout the Indian Mutiny of 1857, being one of

Financing of Bands Discussed By Councillors And Business Men

A meeting of representatives of the town council, Grimsby Band and Business Men's Association was held in the council chamber on Tuesday evening with a view to devising ways and means of financing the town band, a delegation from which recently appeared before the council.

Mayor Lewis is acting as chairman of the Joint Committee and Councillor Lethbridge as secretary. Other members of the committee are Councillors Wilkins, Chivers and Farrell of the town council, Gordon Lipat and P. Durham of the Band and C. D. Millard and D. C. Thomson of the Business Men's Assn., all of whom were in attendance at the meeting.

Several plans were discussed of raising funds to finance the organization. It was decided to hold a carnival on the Library Grounds on Thursday and Friday, August 13th and 14th and the citizens of the town are requested to keep their doors open and watch for further notices of the event.

At a point 100 ft. from the former delving.

Darwin Gold Mines is opening up high-grade ranging from 1 to 10 on, across a quartz width of 1 to 3 ft. in a second lens on the newly discovered vein at the 6th level. The face was still in high-grade at last week. Over 80 ft. of high-grade has now been opened in the new vein in the past 6 weeks. The first lens west of the Grace vein yielded 72 ft. of ore which ran $64.95 over 3 ft. width. The second lens, east of the Grace vein, was cut July 6th and work has since been in high-grade has been opened up. In other sections of the mine further commercial ore has been opened up.

The concentrating unit of the plant at the Conspicuous Mines property in the Temagami district is now in operation and is showing very satisfactory grade as well as satisfactory extraction, according to company officials. All units of plant are ready for operation and production of high-grade matter this week. Shipping and marketing arrangements have been made. Belknap house. Development was continuing on two levels and company has over two years' high.

The shaft currently being sunk at the Kirkland Lake property by the Darwin Gold Mines has reached a depth of 180 feet, officials report. The station for the 150-ft. level has been completed and cross-cutting is proceeding to the vein.

Appeal Is Entered At Osgoode Hall In Slot Machine Case

Charles Durham of Grimsby Beach has given notice at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, of an appeal against his conviction by Magistrate J. H. Campbell of Lincoln County on a charge of keeping a common gambling house by allowing operation of a certain slot machine in premises at the corner of No. 8 highway and Grimsby Beach road.

The appeal was entered by Mr. Lett of Beumville, owner of the machine, in the name of Mr. Durham who was the lessee.

In the notice of appeal it is pleaded that the machine was not an instrument used in playing any game of chance or mixed games of chance and skill, that any person placing a five-cent coin in the machine received five cents' worth of merchandise, and that the magistrate erred in holding that the existence or operation of this machine constituted the offence of keeping a common gaming house.

Alleged Attempt On King's Life Frustrated

Grimsby citizens, in common with those throughout the Empire, were deeply concerned when the tidings were flashed over the radio on Thursday last concerning an apparent attempt to assassinate King Edward. The assurance that the monarch was unharmingly received with general rejoicing. The King was the recipient of innumerable messages of congratulation the following day from all parts of the world.

A crippled writer named George Andrew McMahon, was arrested, it being alleged by eye witnesses that he threw a loaded revolver at King Edward as he rode on horseback at the head of a military parade in Hyde Park. The revolver was reported to have fallen between the King and the troops following, being landed in four of the five chambers. No shot was fired and the King was unharmed.

The arrested man was reported to have said that he had merely intended it as a "prank".

The King was unaffected throughout the episode.

A "woman in grey" is credited by some eye witnesses with having knocked the revolver from the prisoner's hand while a police constable was also congratulated on his quick action in assisting to avert a tragedy.

A morning service only will be held in Trinity United Church on Sunday when Rev. E. A. Karchman, the minister, will officiate.

PROBLEMS REVIEWED IN WATERWORKS DEPT. TOWN OF GRIMSBY

In order that all citizens and water users in the Town might be more familiar with conditions as they are today in the Water Works Department, we are taking this opportunity of bringing to your attention, in a general way, important facts and problems as they appear from time to time.

An emphasis in a previous review of the Water Works department, up until the year 1925 the system showed a loss from year to year, not being able to carry operating charges apart from the payments on debentures issued against the system. Costs of pumping were not known, accounts were not followed up, and the book-keeping had not a proper system for handling the records, etc., in a business-like manner. During the past few years, however, there has been considerable improvement, due to changes and adjustments in the system, making it possible to lower operating costs including power bills, and the costs of pumping have been worked out. Accounts are being collected when due, cutting the loss in this respect to a minimum. The Commission has been able to turn back to the Town during the past few years amounts ranging from $4,000.00 to $10,000.00 in one year, on account of principal and interest on Water Works debentures. As the amounts so transferred to the Town have not been sufficient to cover the full amounts of annual payments on Water Works debentures, the balance must necessarily be paid out of the Town taxes.

A new intake was installed in 1926 at a depth of 17 feet of water; this has not cost one cent for repairs or up-keep since that time until the present time, when it was found that the grating on the top of the intake crib had been shifted, either by ice or storm. Last week, when the low level of the water in the Lake, the ice-banks had broken several lengths of the intake pipe, which will have to be repaired to prevent the influx of sand.

The Commission decided a year or two ago that, in order to put the Water Works department on a paying basis and also treat all water users fairly, meters would need to be installed as promptly as possible. Naturally on the old flat rate system the proposition was far from satisfactory, especially with regard to householders as against manufacturers and other places of business who used much larger quantities of water. Town did not have the money to purchase meters for all users without raising another debenture for a possible 10 years, with an increase in taxes. It was decided to purchase meters only as funds would permit, installing them in all large users as such as manufacturers and places of business first, then adding residences until all were covered. We would mention in this connection that we now have all places of business equipped with meters and have installed several in private residences. The Commission is now working on the matter of installing meters in all residences. When complete, we feel that we will have a very fair way of handling this department, as those who use water will pay according to the quantity consumed.

While the average householder may pay more for water during the summer months on meter service, the minimum rate for such services is lower than the average on the flat rate system. Over a yearly period it should not cost the average householder anything additional, provided the flat rate system we are all likely to be careless and wasteful in the use of water. Naturally enough this water must be pumped through the mains, and the larger the quantity of water pumped the more the cost of pumping.

We invite constructive criticism from all citizens as it is the duty of the Water Works Department to be on its feet, which is possible only through the co-operation of all the various departments.

A. McWATSON, Chairman,
Grimsby Water Commission.

AWAY BACK WHEN

By FRANK FAIRBORN, JR.

How has the hot spell melted you? Not so good? Well let's talk a little hockey and cool off.

In the sporting columns of this paper last week, the death was chronicled of Gene Fraser, of Niagara Falls. To a great many followers of the great winter game of Hockey, a game between Grimsby and the Falls will never seem the same now that "Old Gene" is gone. These very same people went to the risks to boo him and came away cheering him. Lots of them came away from the ice palace breathing all kinds of dire threats against him.

Gene was just a little bit smarter and hockey wise than most of his opponents. He studied the game from every angle and always took advantage of every opportunity to further the interest of his own team. Many of the things that Gene pulled in his battles with Port Colborne, Dunnville, the Peach Kings and other teams, that the fans questioned was just a case of the old fox out-smarting his opponents.

In the winter of 1922, the first year the local arena was open, Gene made all the district fans pay-eyed with the way he carried his Cataracts through to the Intermediate semi-finals. He had a team of old timers, many ready for the hockey bone yard and a handful of kids. He played the smart Belleville team of that year in the finals in Grimsby arena and sent everybody home talking to themselves over the game his team kicked out.

The next year Gene and his crumpled again went to the finals. In 1924 he appeared at the hockey wars with practically a brand new team, and did make them play hockey! He won the intermediate championship that year and then went on in 1925 and won the senior championship.

During these years the Peach Kings were battling him on the ice, in the committee room and every place else, but the old boy was always a little too smart for them at all points.

The Cataracts and the Kings battled on the local ice and took 40 minutes to play one 20 minute period. They were without a doubt the most hectic game ever played on local ice. Grimsby lost and also lost the group championship. For months all you could hear about the town was that Gene Fraser had used questionable tactics but the fact of the matter is that he was just too smart for the local team management.

When that game started that night, there was a young, long-legged gentleman dinging the bell. Nobody knew who he was or where he came from. The first period was fast, hot hockey and had not been under way very long till it was evident to all that Mr. Ref. was not capable of handling two battling outfits like the Fallers and the Kings. The second period proved that. The Falls team led by Old Gene staged a terrific rush that looked like a sure scoring spree but were turned back and Dr. Bill Carson snared the rubber and rushing and zig-zagging his way down the ice, scored on Wart Mayo in the Falls stadium. Reg Maeder was the goal umpire and flashed on the red signal. The Falls claimed it was no goal. The argument waxed fast and furious and Steve Rice, Falls' centreman poked his stick through the wire mesh and bashed Maeder in the face. The Ref. who turned out to be a gentleman named Charles Cummings got all tangled up in his own ideas and reversed and re-reversed his decision on that goal so often in the long minutes of excitement and fighting that followed that I don't believe to this day that he knows whether the goal was scored or was not.

Cummings could not handle the game and it had a climax in the O.H.A. committee room and the Falls were allowed the game. Everybody claimed that Old Gene had again used questionable tactics. The truth of the matter was that Gene had just outsmarted the Grimsby management. Here's how he turned the trick.

For two or three seasons a very popular and strict referee in this district was Bill Cummings of Toronto. He was extremely well liked by both players and fans in Grimsby. Gene knew that there was another Cummings on the official O.H.A. referee list. Also he knew that this Charlie Cummings was no great shakes on a bell ringer and believed that in a tight game that he and his teammates could put the fear of the Almighty into him and just about run the game to suit themselves. That is just what he did in the game in Grimsby. The next thing that Gene had to figure out was how to get this Charlie Cummings appointed for this important fixture.

For years the Kings and the Fallers had always battled over referees. The man that suited one team was not acceptable to the other team. Gene knew that Grimsby was sweet on Bill Cummings, so two days before the game when the usual battle over the referee was at its height, Gene comes out flatfooted and says to Grimsby "Will you be satisfied with Cummings?" Sure we will say "Stoney" Kidd, the Grimsby club secretary. Now remember Gene only said Cummings. O.K. says Gene, Cummings will be the ref.

When game time came Cummings skated on the ice, but it was Charlie Cummings, not Bill Cummings. Gene had outsmarted the smart boys behind the Kings. Charlie Cummings was an officially appointed member of the O.H.A. refereeing staff, but nobody had ever heard tell of him in this district before that night, or since for that matter, except Gene, and that is where he outbrained the local brain trust. It was him a championship. A lot of people claimed it was questionable work. I never did. I always claimed it was marvellous. If the local club were willing to accept Cummings which they were and in their ignorance believed it was Bill when it wasn't, that was their lookout. All refs are listed in the O.H.A. rule book and Charlie was listed with them. Gene was just too bright for them.

Firemen's Carnival A Conspicuous Success Large Number Attend

The annual carnival under the auspices of the Grimsby Firemen met with splendid success again this year, large crowds attending on both Friday and Saturday evenings last.

The Library Lawn, Adelaide Street, where the affair was held, was brilliantly lighted and the many in attendance enjoyed a variety of games, the refreshment booths also doing a flourishing business.

The Big Bang Boys of Hamilton provided humorous entertainment during the evening and were heartily applauded by the gathering.

HEPBURN DEFENDS SCHOOL TAX

Gives Impassioned Address At Liberal Picnic On Saturday — Reviews Record.

Premier Mitchell F. Hespburn made an impassioned defence of the separate school corporation tax legislation before a crowd of thousands of enthusiastic members and friends of the South West Liberal Association at their picnic at the Mount Hope community grounds near Hamilton on Saturday night.

He declared that this measure to benefit the Roman Catholic schools of Ontario could never be made a political issue, because of its innate fairness and justice.

Hon. Earl Rowe, leader of the Conservative opposition, was attacked by the Premier for recent utterances throughout Ontario. Premier Hespburn defended the policies of his party since its coming to power, predicted a balanced budget this year and lower hydro rates in the near future.

"Don't be led astray by any political party who, for self-aggrandizement, would interpret a religious issue into the next election," said the Premier. "Any man who would introduce a religious issue in a matter to his country."

"Mr. Rowe is mistaking the pulse of Toronto for the voice of Ontario. The question at the next election is whether you wish to continue the constructive policies which we are putting into effect or to go back to the old regime of Mr. Ferguson and Mr. Henry, for Mr. Rowe is still the voice for those same persons then behind the scenes."

"We must remember that Canada is made up of two different races, the French and the British. An arrangement was made whereby the Protestants in Quebec could keep up their schools and at the same time the growing numbers of Irish people in Upper Canada asked the right to have their separate schools here. Both minorities were given the rights they asked. And no legislation, even that of Billy Stewart and his friends in Toronto, can change the B.N.A. act, which gave those rights, or in any way prejudice the interests of the smaller groups.

"In Ontario provision was made that persons might say how they wished their taxes for school support paid. No provision was made in regard to corporation taxes. In Quebec, in 1869, legislation was passed providing for the lumping of all corporation taxes and the division of it between Protestant and Roman Catholic schools in proportion to the number of pupils in each group. That system has worked out very well and the Roman Catholics in Quebec have continued to allot in the Protestant minority the British justice which we have denied the Roman Catholic minority in this province for years.

"The former Ontario government had not the courage to come out in the open and give money due to separate schools, but preferred to slide them the cash under the table. Grants to public schools were reduced and those to separate schools were greatly increased. Our new legislation is only a measure of equity and justice and (Continued on page 4)

No Damage By Starlings This Year

Starlings in contrast to two years ago, have caused little or no damage this year, fruit growers report. They appear to have forsaken the fruit diet. Cherry birds have been more numerous than usual this year while robins have helped themselves freely. It will be recalled that in 1934 men patrolled orchards and every effort was made to eradicate the pests which caused much damage at that time.

Houck Announces New Highway Route To Have Four Lanes

Announcement was made on Sunday by W. L. Houck, Liberal M.L.A. for Niagara Falls constituency, that the new Provincial Highway from Hamilton to Niagara Falls will cut diagonally across country from Homer to Dorchester Road and the Thorold stone road in Stamford Township. This section of the road will be completed in 1936 and the remainder in 1937.

The remaining part of the road has not been mapped, but it is understood it will go through Stamford to McLeod Road, then to Chippawa. The new road will have four traffic lanes with a centre boulevard.

Travelling distance between Niagara Falls and Hamilton will be reduced about two and one-quarter miles when the new road is completed.

ONTARIO'S TOLL HIGH

Auto Dangerous Weapon If Courtesy Forgotten, Bickell Asserts.

The motorist at the wheel of his car seems to forget that he is riding a potential engine of death, and that every pedestrian as well as every other car driver in the vicinity is his potential victim. J. P. Bickell, registrar of motor vehicles for Ontario, declared recently when he released the accident statistics compiled by his department for the first five months of 1936.

"Judging by the period from Jan. 1 to May 31, this year bids fair to set a record for auto mishaps," Mr. Bickell declared. "Although there has been an appreciable improvement in relation to the volume of traffic, there are more cars in operation, and people are using them more, resulting in more accidents," he explained. "The fatal accident rate for each 10,000,000 gallons of gasoline consumed, which is an excellent basis of comparison, shows a pronounced drop to 14.1 this year from 19.1 last year, and is the lowest in recent years; yet there were three more fatalities in May, 1936, than in May, 1935," he went on.

"The lesson we have to learn from these figures is unmistakably that as the density of traffic increases, there is need for more and more thoughtful care and courtesy on the part of motorists." (Continued on page 5)

Many Attend Sacred Band Concert Sunday Excellent Program

A large number gathered on the Library Lawn on Sunday evening when the Grimsby Band gave a high class program of sacred and other numbers under the leadership of Mr. Fred Timms.

Added enjoyment was lent to the program by the presence of several vocalists from Beamsville, much appreciated numbers being contributed by Miss Blomson Claus, contralto, and Mr. Robert Gillespie, baritone.

The various numbers by the band and visiting soloists were heartily applauded.

Another concert will be given on Sunday, August 2nd for which special numbers are being arranged. Further details will be given in next week's issue.

Violent Deaths 6,885 In Canada During Past Year

Automobile Accidents Claim
1,224 Lives; Largest Total In Five Years.

OTTAWA—Automobile and other accidents, suicides and homicides brought death to 6,885 people in Canada last year, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports. Almost all forms of violent death except suicide showed increases over 1934 and crept up towards record high levels registered around 1930 and 1931.

Automobile mishaps took 1,224 lives or 11.3 per 100,000 of population compared with 1,155 in 1934. This was the largest toll since 1931, when 1,316 fatalities occurred.

In all, 6,885 persons or 62.9 per 100,000 met death from external violence in 1935. This, too, was the highest total since 1931 and compared with 6,469 in 1934.

Suicides accounted for 902 deaths, compared to 927 in 1934, and homicides for 153 compared with 112 in 1934.

All provinces with the exception of Prince Edward Island, Alberta and New Brunswick showed a larger number of motor vehicle fatalities in 1935 than in the preceding year. Prince Edward Island, however, had the lowest rate, 2.2 per 100,000, and Saskatchewan stood next with a rate of 4.1.

Montreal had 169 deaths from motor vehicle accidents in 1935 as compared with 161 in the preceding year. Toronto had 74 as compared with 88, Vancouver 43 against 58, Winnipeg 24 against 19, Hamilton 16 against 27, Ottawa 25 against 19, and Quebec City 17 against 15.

Drawings in 1935, exclusive of those occurring in land or air transportation, numbered 577, or 15 per cent of the total of fatal accidents. Land transportation accounted for 1,847 deaths, or 28 per cent of the total. Of these, deaths in automobile accidents numbered 1,224, or 21 per cent of all accidental deaths.

Excluding those cases where an automobile was involved there were 216 deaths in railway accidents and 57 in street car accidents. Accidents in mines and quarries accounted for 141 deaths, although one of the drawings is duplicated here. There were 12 persons killed during the year in accidents of air transportation.

Britain Bolsters Its Air - Raid Defence

LONDON—Great Britain bolstered her air raid precautions last week.

A supplementary Civil Service estimate filed in the House of Commons asked an additional $4,250,000 with which to purchase gas masks. Of this amount, $125,000 was earmarked for the purchase and adaptation of two factories producing masks in the Manchester area.

An additional $25,000 was allotted for the civilian anti-gas school.

The supplementary estimate totaling $20,031,250 of which $14,654,500 was for a cattle fund grant, pushed the total of 1936 supplementary estimates to $41,961,000 beyond the amount provided for in the budget drawn up by Chancellor of the Exchequer Neville Chamberlain.

The gas masks are to be stored in convenient centres throughout the country and will not be loaned to the public unless their use becomes necessary.

Methods of distribution in the event of an emergency are to be worked out with arrangements made to allow the public to try on the masks and become accustomed to them.

"No. 10" To Enjoy A Face-Lifting

LONDON—No. 10 Downing Street, historic official residence of Britain's prime ministers, will enjoy a "face-lifting" while Parliament and Premier Baldwin are on a vacation, it was learned recently.

Work will begin in early August. Immediately after Mr. Baldwin leaves London. A large brick wall which covers part of the sidewalk and extends to the door of the residence will be torn down. A small lawn will be put in its place.

Several rooms, including a waiting-room and chambers for the clerical staff, will be added to the interior. The renovations will take three months.

Plan Bigger Ship Than Queen Mary

Preparations Under Way—
Craft May Be Christened
King George V.

GLASGOW—Preparations for constructing a bigger and faster companion to the S. S. Queen Mary have begun tentatively on the Clydebank. In shipping circles it is said the liner, if constructed will probably be christened the King George V.

An official order for the construction of the projected liner would have a tonnage of about 35,000 as compared to the 30,773 of the Queen Mary.

Carpenters already are clearing the slipway which cradled the Queen Mary and divers will be sent down to inspect the riverbed for silt deposits.

Official of the John Brown Company, which built the Queen Mary for the Cunard-White Star Lines, says:

"We are almost certain to be given a tender although we have not received an official confirmation of the order."

The company has expected to receive an order for a battleship, but it is understood the Admiralty work would be spread instead to other shipbuilders in North England to leave the John Brown Company free for the liner.

Cunard-White Star officials have been inspecting models of the proposed liner while experts have produced altered and refined engine designs.

A brown official declares "the new ship will be larger than the Queen Mary and faster."

It is understood that present plans call for a longer ship with greater passenger accommodations. The ship, it is said, would probably be placed in commission in 1938.

Back Home

Woman Judge Spends Holiday in N.S., After 25 Years' Absence

HALIFAX — Judge Ethel MacLachlan of the Juvenile Court of Saskatchewan is back visiting her native province after an absence of a quarter century.

The only travelling woman judge in Canada left Lunenburg, N.S., as a young woman and started child welfare work in the west, beginning with the Department of Neglected Children in Regina at time when her superintendent and she formed the entire staff.

She advanced from post to post, Inspector of Foster Homes, Assistant Superintendent, Provincial Superintendent until juvenile courts were first established and she was the logical choice to occupy the bench.

Her duties carry her over a wide territory. Judge MacLachlan has run up enough mileage on her automobile to encircle the globe a number of times, registering 20,000 a year. For her vacation, she motored to Nova Scotia.

66 Weds 16 When First Old Age Pension Begins

COLUMBUS, Tex. — Oscar Crawford, 66, received his first state old age pension cheque for $12, and soon appeared at the courthouse with 16-year-old Lydia Havermann at his side and asked for his first marriage license.

Clerks refused to issue it until the bride's father appeared and consented. He nodded approval while the county judge read the wedding ceremony. Immediately the couple left for the groom's 18-acre farm near here.

Only a Dog P. O. P.

You may talk of friendships you've had and know.
Of your pals and your lovers, too.
Of men and women who've often shown
What friendship and love will do.
But as down the transitory track of life
My loneliness way I jog,
I know no lover or maid or wife
Who'll stick by you like a dog.

For a pal's a pal to you just as long
As there isn't a cloud in the sky.
He'll stick by you closely till things go wrong,
When perchance he's a trifle shy.

But a dog will give you his life, my friend,
And his love for a pal or a snark.
He'll stick by you to the bitter end,
And he'll never answer you back.
Your friend's his friend, and your fight's his fight,
And he'll shelter the devious dog,
Nor worry whether you're wrong or right,
And yet—he's only a dog!

The child's first school is the family.

FRUIT OF GOOD QUALITY

A survey in the Vineland district shows that late Montmorency canning cherries were not seriously affected by the heat wave. Fruit on most trees is of good quality and canners will start to take it this week. The red and black current crops on many farms are one hundred per cent. ruined, actually cooked on the vines. The raspberry crop will be very short.

IT COSTS YOU NOTHING to be COURTEOUS to other motorists

I ASK YOU to please remember, as you hurry along the highways bound for some distant point, that it costs you nothing to be courteous to other drivers and it saves you money.

- It costs you nothing to sound your horn on the highway as you are about to overtake a fellow motorist and it may prevent an accident and thereby save you money.
- It costs you nothing to give the other fellow a wide berth when you meet him and it may prevent a side-swipe and thereby save you money.
- It costs you nothing to hand-signal your intention to slow down, turn or stop and it may prevent a collision and thereby save you money.
- It costs you nothing to "zip" along at the speed of the traffic you are in and it prevents other motorists from having to "cut-in" in order to get "there" and thereby removes one of the greatest causes of costly accidents.
- It costs you nothing to be courteous and considerate of your companions of the road and it will prevent accidents and thereby save dollars and cents for everybody and prevent broken bones and broken hearts as well.

So I appeal to you from the standpoint of sheer economy to be courteous to other motorists on all occasions.

Practice and preach the golden rule of the road—"Show to others the same courtesy that you would like to have shown to you."

Sincerely yours,

B. J. Dwyer

Huffman of Niagara Falls is patrolling No. 8 highway from Niagara Falls to Beamsville while Provincial Constable William Wood of Smithville is looking after No. 8 from Beamsville to Hamilton as well as his regular beat on No. 20 highway.

During the first four Sundays of August the pulpit of Trinity United Church will be occupied by the following ministers in the absence of Rev. E. A. Buchanan on vacation when morning services only will be held: Aug. 2nd, Rev. J. E. J. Millard, London; Aug. 9th, Rev. A. P. Hinington, Colborne East; Aug. 16th, Rev. A. McGowan, Toronto; Aug. 23rd, Rev. M. N. Omond, North Bay.

It has been suggested by a local citizen, in view of the fact that first aid stations are being established along the highway in this vicinity, that certain persons along the lake shore or nearby should also be equipped with first aid kits to attend to the many bathers who suffer cuts while in bathing. There seems to be a lot of broken glass both on the shore and under water close to the shore.

A funeral service for the late Mary Catharine Book, widow of Josephus M. Book, was held from her late residence in South Grimsby, on Thursday afternoon, July 16, at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. A. Ballard officiating. Burial took place in St. Andrew's Churchyard, Grimsby. The pallbearers were, Messrs. Hubert Becor, Murray Buchanan, Peter Zedler, George Douglas, William Duck and Isaiah Flett.

The Toll Brothers, famous travelogue, "Hitch-hiking, round the world," will be presented in Trinity Hall on the evening of Thursday, October 22nd, under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Society of Trinity United Church, the afternoon and evening auxiliaries co-operating. Further particulars will be published later.

Miss Pope is in town in the interests of the Upper Canada Tract Society Mission to sailors and it is hoped that citizens will do their best to assist this worthy and benevolent cause as in former years. The work is international. The society maintains chaplains and missionaries on the Welland Canal and at other points on the great inland waters and supports Sailors' Institutes.

The funeral service was held on Saturday afternoon from the Stonehouse Funeral Home of James Hayes, Jr., there being a large number in attendance. Services at the home and graveside were conducted by Rev. J. A. Ballard of St. Andrew's Church. Interment took place in Queen's Lawn Cemetery, the following acting as pallbearers: Ted Bidwell, Ted Roeker, Bill Roeker, Lloyd Allen, Russ Smith and Frank Burky, all clowns of the dead lot.

Friends here will sympathize with Mr. James Drysdale, a member of the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, in the sudden death in Hamilton on Sunday of his mother, Mrs. Lawrence M. Drysdale, following a heart attack. The funeral was held in that city on Tuesday afternoon.

The Baptist Sunday School picnic will be held on Wednesday, July 29th, at Long Beach. Trucks will leave the Sunday School at 1:30 p.m. and all members of the school are invited to attend.

fair play. I am not a bit ashamed of it. I am glad of the fact that we did it out in the open, and not in the manner of the Tories, who actually gave the minister of education power to pay out large sums as he saw fit.

"How does the farmer figure in this? you ask. He was made the goat in past years. There isn't a farmer in Ontario who will not benefit by the new act. This is not a rural problem, because few rural sections in Ontario have separate schools. You people in rural sections pay money into the treasury and now you will get it back in roads and rural needs. You used to pour it into the treasury and it was spent in urban sections. I am proud of the legislation as a great matter of principle.

Another matter which Premier Hespurn discussed at some length was that of succession duties. He charged that the succession duty collections of the Henry administration had suffered as a result of maladministration and collusion between certain Toronto lawyers and heads of the governmental departments.

Succession duties were an admirable way of securing to some extent a redistribution of the country's wealth, the Premier declared. When his government came into power, he personally made a comparison of collections in Ontario with those of other provinces and found that it was unfavourable here. Chester Walters had been appointed controller and given the task of finding out where the trouble lay.

"Mr. Walters showed that the department had been defrauded of between 30 and 35 million dollars," said the Premier. "Much of that amount was not traceable, and was hence uncollectable. But we increased succession duty revenues by millions. Last year we collected $12,000,000, the highest sum ever taken in. Some cases that had been closed by the other government were reopened, and from three of those estates alone we took in $2,500,000.

"We are now collecting these duties at the rate of $2,000,000 a month. So far this year we have taken in as much as the Tories collected in a whole year. There is some satisfaction in collecting where these men, cheated in an air of respectability, deliberately set out to defraud the province. One man who cheated the government of $200,000 was found out by us, and when the case was reopened, with penalties and interest, was forced to pay $1,542,248.49.

Timber Limits

"Another department we have to look at is our north country. There were vast timber lands there which should have been a source of revenue to the province, yet had been an expense under the Tory regime. I secured authority from the legislature to re-allocate these timber lands that were being held, non-productive, and as a result we will have from them a revenue of between one and one-half million dollars this year.

Hydro Contracts

Our predecessors had contracted for power that we couldn't use that would cost $10,000,000 a year. We found that we would have had to take this money either from power-users or the taxpayers. We couldn't increase the power rates; that would have driven our users to other means of power. We found out that the contracts were not legal. We would have proven this in court, but when we saw that Mr. Tilley had been paid $200,000 in legal fees by the former government, we didn't want the lawyers to get all the money. So I introduced a bill to cancel the contracts. It was not re-passed, since the power companies had never given us anything, and when the contracts were cancelled they still had all the equipment—everything—that they had before.

"They say it damaged our credit. You can't buy an Ontario bond at or below par in any market. Is that damaged credit?"

"The Hydro is showing a net profit of $200,000 a month that we are going to pass on to you owners. That's what will keep industry in Ontario.

"We're there prepared to carry on," said Premier Hespurn. "I am happy to say that the doctors tell me my

FIELD DAY AT THE EXPERIMENTAL STATION, HARROW

The annual field day of the Dominion Experimental Station, Harrow, will be held July 30. A special invitation to visit the farm on this date is extended to all persons interested in agriculture.

Tobacco and hops will be featured on the programme, and in addition a canning demonstration for the ladies will be held while the men are inspecting the experimental plots, dairy herd, and poultry plant.

Health will permit me to continue. And I venture to say we shall carry on."

Hon. Mr. McQuacken

Prior to the Premier's speech, Hon. T. R. McQuacken, K.C., minister of highways, was among those to address a few words to the gathering. He charged that the previous Conservative relief work system had "cluttered up the roads with men not doing useful work." Now work was done under contract and at a fair wage, with labourers being paid 35 cents an hour. By calling for tenders, vast sums had been saved that would permit the construction of other highways.

"If the initial attack by Mr. Rowe is indicative of his ability," said Mr. McQuacken, "we will be a lot better off with Mr. Hespurn. The Premier is a great man, one of the three truly great statesmen to spring up in the last 100 years in Canada. By means of honesty, simplicity and honour, he will carry forward with the confidence of the people of the province behind him."

Mr. John Chorman was chairman of the gathering.

OBITUARY

Richard Edgar Writenburg

The death occurred on Wednesday night at his residence, 18 Oak Street, Grimsby, of Richard Edgar Writenburg, only son of Mrs. Hannah and the late John Writenburg. Born in Grimsby, the late Mr. Writenburg had only passed his 56th birthday on Saturday last and although he had not been in good health for some time his passing came as a shock to his friends.

He was a member of Union Lodge No. 7, A.F. and A.M., Grimsby Chapter, R.A.M., Oddfellows, Rebekahs and the Eastern Star Chapter.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Hannah Writenburg, with whom he resided.

The funeral will be held from his late residence on Saturday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock.

Interment in Kings Cemetery.

Mrs. James M. Campbell

Mrs. Diana Armstrong Campbell, wife of James H. Campbell, K.C., Police Magistrate of Lincoln County, died at her home in St. Catharines on Wednesday following a lengthy illness. Mrs. Campbell came to Canada from Ireland as a child and had spent almost all her life in St. Catharines. In former years she was an active worker in the Children's Shelter, the Needle-work Guild and the Daughters of the Empire. Her husband survives.

Mrs. Florence Ethel Nichols

Following a lengthy illness the death occurred on Thursday last of Mrs. Florence Ethel Nichols, a daughter of the late Nelson J. Tuckey of Grimsby, at her late residence in North Tonawanda, N. Y. She was born in Grimsby and lived here for many years. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Ed. Atkins, Grimsby and one brother, Owen, of London.

The funeral was held from her late home in North Tonawanda Saturday afternoon and the remains conveyed to Grimsby for interment in Queen's Lawn Cemetery.

The pallbearers were Messrs. John H. Gibson, J. H. Culp, James I. Threl, T. R. Hunter, A. P. Hawke and Arthur Hewson.

Mrs. Margaret D. Nelson

Howard Smith, of Winona, received word on Friday from Santiago, Cal., of the death of his aunt, Mrs. Margaret Devitt Nelson, who died suddenly in her 96th year. She will be remembered by the old residents of this district, having taught school at Winona over fifty years ago. Miss Devitt also taught in Grimsby and Remountville. She is a sister of the late Mrs. Wesley Smith.

DECOMPOSED BODY FOUND

Part of a badly decomposed human body was found on Lake Ontario shore, between Port Weller and Niagara-on-the-Lake Sunday evening and it was brought to St. Catharines for identification if possible. It is not known whether it is a man or woman. Coroner Pollock is investigating. Provincial police believe it is the body of some one who went over Niagara falls during the ice jam last winter, which would account for it being so badly cut up.

BARTON HIGH SCHOOL

PUPILS NO PLACE TO GO

About 30 Barton high school students will have "no place to go" after January 1, unless the council provides for their education before that date. Alfred Broughton, township clerk, told the councilors at their meeting on Monday.

"An amendment to the High School act will have serious effects in the township. The amendment is effective January 1, 1937, and it appears to mean that high school pupils of the township of Barton will have no place to go unless action is taken on their behalf in the near future," Mr. Broughton reported.

OXFORD GROUP MOVEMENT

Article 3

"If you want to change the world, the best place to start is with yourself," said Dr. Frank N. D. Buchman, leader of the Oxford Group Movement, at North America's First National Assembly held at Blackbridge, Mass., first week in June, 1935. "The change always begins with the individual. The moment he becomes the right kind of person, we become 'life changers,' he emphasized.

One of those arriving on the Queen Mary, Joseph E. Ryan, leader of the Oxford Group, told the audience, that he is positive "that Oxford Group principles are the only thing that will save Europe from chaos." He described the eight major house parties in Holland, and the changes wrought in whole villages by Oxford members.

Hopes for international reconciliation aided by Oxford Group principles were expressed by Kenneth Taitchell, who described the coming of the Oxford Group to Geneva. The Oxford spirit is deep enough to effect real changes, and moves quickly enough to reach people in time.

Miss Mary Hughes, former national head of the women's division of N.R.A., described the difference between persons before and after they became group members because thus Christian principles on paper became principles in action. "A million women in America awakened to the truth can change the private and public life of this nation," she said.

Spiritual Static

Eleanor Furde declared that people in Berkshire are recognizing spiritual static these days much as they know it when static interrupts a program on the radio. She made reference to the message by Dr. Buchman: "Every man, woman and child has a receiving set for one station," he had said. "Messages are flashing out from God every moment. The tragedy of the world is that so few people get this orders and carry them into intelligent action. I used to listen in on my own private station. When millions do this the result is spiritual static. Of course it isn't called that. We call it depression and social unrest and the road to war. If every statesman, business man, politician, housewife, teacher and child tuned in daily on God's wave length, the problems of the world could be solved in a day."

Absolute honesty, absolute purity, absolute unselfishness and absolute love, the four pillars on which the Oxford group aims to build "bridges from man to man," were discussed hourly at the eight group meetings.

The fellowship—Oxford groupers do not like to be called "members"—reaches out to all classes of people.

To the Oxford group the house parties are of far more importance than the big public gatherings. It is in the house parties that the real work of the movement is carried on, although at all times every person in the fellowship is eager and willing to talk of the joy of a God-controlled life. It is almost impossible for one not in the fellowship to walk down the street alone. And those in the fellowship are never alone.

So full are these people of the joy they have in their intimate relationship with God that they are eager to share that joy with all others. No one is exempt. There is no distinction as to race, color, creed or class.

Big Tent City at Lee

One of the "house parties" was that of the tent city at Lee. Here upwards of 100 young men and boys, many of them unemployed, were gathered. The camp was a model which might well be followed by any large group. There was absolute discipline among those at camp. All the work was done on a voluntary basis and as a result of "guidance" received in the "quiet time" observed each morning. Everything was on a co-operative basis. An example of this was seen when a new trench for the disposal of waste from the kitchen had to be dug. A former pickpocket and an Episcopal clergyman dug that trench.

Philip Chappell, United States government strike arbitrator declared that the Oxford Group has the only answer to the question of industrial relations. He said that until employers give thought to the labor problems as they do to the mechanical side of industry, nothing will go right. "Lack of love and honesty, despotism on the part of employer, fear on the part of the employee—these are the greatest causes of strikes. I believe that the Oxford group has the only answer," he asserted. "To bring together a group of people of varying ages and background, without previous acquaintance, to create a camp and provide for its administration on a basis of the guidance of the Holy Spirit, is not only an outward demonstration of the effectiveness of such guidance, but suggests a method which might be extended with profit to unemployed groups about the country," he said.

THE STORY OF

VITA-KELP

AND OF ITS BENEFITS TO THE HUMAN SYSTEM

"METABOLISM"
How the human system works.

Our bodies are constantly changing—some tissues being built up into blood, bone and organs, and others disintegrating and forming waste matter. These changes are incessantly going on while life lasts and are described under the general term "Metabolism".

A deficiency of some minerals in the blood stream may cause the metabolism to become abnormal, and in many of these cases this abnormality may be corrected by a diet supplement containing these minerals.

For example, everyone knows that such diseases as Scrovy—Beriberi—Rickets are directly caused by something missing in the diet of the sufferer. So many people suffer from these deficiency ailments, for example certain forms of Nervousness, Skin Diseases, low vitality, dental decay, premature loss of hair, Arthritis, Rheumatism, Kidney and Liver disorders, Constipation.

One of the many causes of poor teeth can be traced to a lack of calcium-phosphorus balance in the blood stream. The presence of calcium-phosphorus in Vita-Kelp thus helps in cases of Dental Decay.

In the opinion of Doctor F. F. Tinsell of the Research Laboratory Hospital for Sick Children, in an address as reported in the press on May 22nd, 1936, quote—"Minerals" offered the best for greatest progress in the future for nutritional research. "Lack of essential minerals resulted in stunted growth, decreased vigor and ill-health."

Optimum of Mineral Diet

HOW VITA-KELP MAY HELP YOU

Average diet insufficient in Minerals

Between 30 to 40 percent of food eaten by the average Canadian contained neither vitamins nor minerals.

Vita-Kelp is a food product, not a drug, not a medicine. Its action is slow, sure and sure, and results instantly permanent. Build up that Vim, Vigor and Vitality, build up Health and Strength, by adding Vita-Kelp to your ordinary daily diet.

VITA-KELP A valuable Food Supplement

Whatever may be the abundance or deficiency in the foods you eat in your ordinary diet—it is admitted that marine foods (especially Kelp) contain quantities of mineral salts, including Iodine.

VITA-KELP, as a diet supplement, is valuable because in addition to iodine it contains calcium, phosphorus, potassium, iron, manganese, copper, sulphur, sodium.

Many common ailments yield to VITA-KELP

In other words, if your system is lacking in these essentials VITA-KELP is a safe, simple, economical method of supplementing that deficiency. That is why VITA-KELP is useful in many cases of

General Debility Rheumatism
Arthritis Nutritional
Nervousness Anemia
Indigestion Constipation
Common Colds Mild Kidney and Lack of Iodine Liver disorders
Low Vitality Dental Decay
Asthma, Hay Fever, Bronchial troubles.

Keep your bottle of Vita-Kelp on the dining room table and eat it then regularly. You will not need to worry over the mineral content of your daily diet.

WHAT VITA-KELP HAS DONE FOR OTHERS

Dr. Martin E. Page, Toronto, Michigan, M.D., in a letter to—"Notes of the Effects of ENDURANCE (VITA-KELP)" given at his last address—

"The chief deficiency in the northern states is in some of the 'trace' minerals, excluding calcium and phosphorus which are magnesium, potassium, copper, iron, manganese, sulphur and iodine. These 'trace' minerals are important in that they are food of the endocrine."

"Insufficiency or lack of these minerals in the diet causes the endocrine, hence, the metabolism and the assimilation of phosphorus into the blood to be abnormal. The practical application of this knowledge influences greatly the practice of dentistry."

A delighted user of VITA-KELP says

"I am now active, in business again, after two years of illness. I attribute my corrected condition from Arthritis, Inflamed Gums and Eczema to the use of VITA-KELP tablets."

"My family physician told me to keep right on with VITA-KELP."

A distinguished physician and surgeon—Name on request

"recommends the use of VITA-KELP for many ailments, as a builder and restorer."

Professor Geo. W. Coughrough of Grand University gives as his personal opinion:

"For human beings, it is indicated in MANY INSTANCES when they are standing on the borderland of indefinable symptoms with aches here and pains there. Kelp builds them up again, often making them stronger than they have been before."

You Obey your body (Name on request)

A basket of cherries nowadays has no terrors for the housewife who wants a shelf full of gleaming ruby-colored cherry jelly—it is so easy to make it with bottled fruit pectin that you enjoy the procedure as much as you would getting ready for a picnic. How proud you will be of the rows of jelly in your cupboard and how grateful you will be for the rest of the year for the flavor and decoration cherry jelly brings to your meals.

What fruit catches the light with such gleam and glossiness as cherries? That lovely jewel-like sparkle and color can be caught and transferred to jars of jelly and jam that will bring joy to many a meal for the rest of the year. Here we are in the midst of a fine cherry season and nowadays that does not set up a pall or overwhelm the housewife with the sense of a heavy task ahead of her as it used to be in the old days before bottled fruit pectin was discovered and perfected. Now the making of cherry jam and jelly is not a laborious long-bell method with uncertainty as to the result, as it used to be not many years ago.

Making cherry jam and jelly is now something of a jolly pastime—an artistic achievement of economic value that the modern housewife does not just want to "have to do the cook." There is a thrill in doing it yourself! The bottled fruit pectin short-bell method is simple and sure of success.

CHERRY JELLY

(Any kind except wild or choke, 5 cups (1½ lbs. juice), 6½ cups (2 2-4 lbs.) sugar, 1 bottle fruit pectin. To prepare juice, stem and crush three pounds fully ripe cherries. Do not pit. Add half cup water, bring to a boil, cover and simmer ten minutes. (For stronger cherry flavor, add ½ teaspoon almond extract before pouring.) Place fruit in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Measure sugar and juice into large squares and mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard half a minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about nine eight-ounce glasses.

Glove Will Tell

Writes the New York Times—No longer will the scrupulously gloved hand of the criminal protect him from his fingerprint expert at Scotland Yard, according to Superintendent Battley, head of the Anthropometric Department.

A system has been devised by him which reveals any microscopic mark left by a glove on wood or metal, so that the mark can later be identified. It was Battley who some years ago invented the single fingerprint system. His new method allows prints which otherwise would not have been discovered to be brought to light by secret processes.

There have been several recorded cases in Britain and abroad in which fingerprints have been traced from a hand which was wearing a glove, and it is believed that this method may develop to an extent far beyond what has already been achieved. At present much depends on the type of glove used and the surface on which the imprint is made.

The fingerprint department is becoming one of the most important at Scotland Yard. Last year 21,767 identifications were effected from 55,899 sets of fingerprints sent for search.

Author Praises Tweedsmuir Milk for Babies

War-time Associate of Governor-General Describes Him. His Outstanding Characteristics in Versatility, Isaac F. Mar-cossan States in Volume.

A tribute to John Buchan, now Lord Tweedsmuir, Governor-General of Canada, as one "who has done more different things well than almost any man I ever met," is paid by Isaac F. Marcossan, in his "Adventures in Interviewing."

Traces Career

Mr. Marcossan, himself long an outstanding United States author, editor and colorful viewer of world affairs, continues that Lord Tweedsmuir's career "has been as varied and adventurous as that of any of the heroes in his 'blackbirds.'" At the time Mr. Marcossan writes he had been "novelist, barrister, historian, sportsman, soldier, statesman and publisher."

"With Buchan I had the usual unconventional introduction. In 1916 I returned to England convinced that the whole British propaganda program in America was wrong. I told Lord Tweedsmuir that unless a change were made in its direction, the Germans would succeed in their determined attempt to poison the American mind against Britain. He agreed with me thoroughly and added:

"The problem is to get the right man. Let me think it over."

Two days later he called me up early in the morning and said:

"Come to lunch at my house today and meet the man I shall propose for Director of Propaganda."

In this way I met Buchan. He was the man Northcliffe suggested for the propaganda work and he was soon at the head of the bureau at the "F. O.," as they call the Foreign Office. I made my second trip to the British Front under his sponsorship—(it resulted in my book, "The Business of War")—and together we fought many battles in behalf of the Anglo-Saxon understanding—a cause dear to both our hearts.

Likened to Barrie

Buchan is as completely Scotch in dialect and manner as Barrie. He was writing when his contemporaries included Robert Louis Stevenson, E. R. Crockett and Ian MacLaren. This means that he "took his pen in hand" almost before he was out of short trousers. At 16 he had published an annotated edition of Bacon's Essays; he was still in Oxford when he had produced several novels. After a brilliant career at Brasenose College, which is the alma mater, by the way, of Sir Douglas Haig, when he was called to the English Bar. This was too slow for him, he went to South Africa as private secretary to Lord Milner, then high commissioner.

Being Scotch, Buchan has a canny business sense. In 1907 he allied himself with the famous publishing house of Nelson's. The average untravelled American does not realize perhaps the great service to humanity that this old concern has rendered. No matter where you happen to find yourself in the civilized world, be it Paris, Petrograd or Peking, if you need reading diversion all you have to do is go to the nearest book store and you will find one of the Nelson "shilling shockers." The world is littered with these useful books. I once told Buchan that the real Order of Merit for conspicuous service to the tourist should be bestowed on his house.

Over-Age for War

When the war broke out Buchan offered himself for active service but was rejected on account of over-age. A little thing like this did not deter him. He was one of Kitchener's most active aids in the first British recruiting campaign. After serving as one of The Times correspondents at the front he joined Haig's staff as intelligence officer. He was present at every stage of the Battle of the Somme and it enabled him to write his well-known narrative of that stupendous engagement. It is a part of his now-famous "History of the War," whose 17 volumes comprise what will probably stand for some time as the authoritative account of the great conflict. This monumental work was prepared under every conceivable kind of handicap. It was partly written at Haig's headquarters; a portion was turned out while he was director of propaganda. It was like a vast serial written hot on the heels of happening. The amazing thing about the performance is that it is a consecutive and finished distribution to the literature of the war.

If you were to analyze the whole Buchan achievement, you would find that the outstanding quality disclosed was versatility. He was ranged from a tragedy in blank verse to an ideal adventure yarn like "Green Mantle." No living man approaches him in the formula for a ripping "shocker." He fairly reels them off. I once asked Buchan how he felt about his writing and he replied with the following epigram:

Writing Amusement

"I regard business as my profession; writing as my amusement, and it looks as if some kind of politics is going to be my duty."

He once confessed to me that his really great literary ambition is to write a Life of General Robert E. Lee. The commander-in-chief of the armies of the South has always been one of his ideals. When I told him that my father had not only been a Confederate soldier but had served under Lee, he almost fell on my neck. For a Scotchman it was a memorable outburst of feeling.

Buchan had never seen a Confederate flag, so I sent him one. Upon receiving it he wrote me: "No gift that I have ever received has touched me in just the same way as the Confederate flag you sent me. It is the symbol of a high and dauntless heroism." The flag hangs today in the library of his house in Portland Place in London.

A New Approach to Finding the Right Formula for Each

"Curlifrons wet nurse of the human race," the late Oliver Herford once called the cow. But physicians have long known that cow's milk is not like mother's milk. It must be modified to suit the infant stomach. Hence the scores of prepared baby milks on the market.

At the Rochester meeting of the Society of Experimental Biology and Medicine, Dr. I. Newton Kugelmann, noted pediatrician of New York, rose to tell what's right and wrong with cow's milk in a baby food. "There is no substitute for breast milk," he insisted, "and there can be no single formula for the universal feeding of infants." Still he approves of cow's milk if it is chemically adapted to the individual baby.

Since he is a chemist as well as a physician, Dr. Kugelmann proceeded to tell how and why cow's milk should be modified to suit individual needs. He is all for "adapting the formula to the infant, and not the infant to the formula," which is his subtle way of saying that he does not approve of just leading a baby over and then deciding which of the many prepared milks on the market is suitable. Each baby presents a feeding problem of its own to him. The physiological conditions under which it digests must be determined.

The gastric juice of the stomach curdles milk. Soft curds swell in the stomach and are easily digested. Hard curds shrink and are broken down with difficulty. So the problem reduces itself to controlling the curd.

Types of Feeders

It turns out that the mere build of a baby is enough to indicate how cow's milk should be modified. There are "linear," or long-bodied, and "rotund," or broad-bodied, babies. The linear produce more gastric juice than the rotund and are subject to fewer digestive disturbances. Hence the linear must be given diluted or acidified cow's milk. A study of 500 infants showed that the linear need cow's milk diluted three to one and the rotund one to one. In between are the mediocrities, who need dilutions of two to one. But whatever the concentration, there must also be carbohydrate (10 per cent) and the vitamins D and C.

Apart from body build there may be tendencies to diseases for which allowances must be made. Dr. Kugelmann's 500 babies 65 per cent were allergic could not tolerate milk without getting ill; 30 per cent neurotic and 5 per cent sympathetic (pale and lacking in energy) and hydrophobic (variable in these fields). When the allergies are given goat's evaporated or vegetable milk, the neurophobic thick-feeders, acid feeders or evaporated milk, all is well. And it is as easy to tell to which of these types a baby belongs as to determine its body build.

Dr. Sinclair Lewis

Writes the Edmonton Journal—Sinclair Lewis, noted American novelist who for long was eyed askance by literary highbrows, has been especially honored by the conferring on him by Yale University, his alma mater, of the degree of Doctor of Letters.

Prof. William Lyon Phelps, noted literary critic, in presenting Sinclair's name, described him as "a novelist and an evangelist." Then, in conferring the degree, President Angell, of Yale, spoke as follows:

Author of perilous books that once opened, cast a fatal spell and may not be closed; erudite the last page is scanned; satirist of the tawdry, the mean, the petty; interpreter of a bewildered generation struggling to find itself in a world adrift from its old-time moorings, your alma mater, justly proud of your pre-eminent achievement, confers upon you the degree of doctor of letters.

If You Faint at the Wheel of Your Car

If you faint at the wheel of your car and it runs into somebody on the road, the "injured party" cannot claim damages from you.

This was in effect the decision of Judge Beasley at Southend County Court recently.

Patrick McDermott, of Liverpool road, Canning Town, London, was standing on a roadside with other cyclists when a car struck him.

The driver of the car Mr. Arthur Cheek, a surveyor, of Peckham Rye, E.E., said he remembered nothing of the accident. He fainted before it occurred.

Mr. McDermott maintained that Mr. Cheek fainted after the crash.

Judge Beasley held that the driver was not negligent, and dismissed the claim. The accident was inevitable.

A Third of a Mile of Peonies

"About an infant's neck hang Peonies. It cures Ahydes' cruel maledie," said Joshua Sylvester, the 16th century English poet, with reference to the ancient belief that the seeds of the peony were round the neck acted as a charm against the powers of darkness. Indeed, from the earliest times, traditions gathered around the peony both as a talisman against evil and as a cure for many illnesses. In eastern Europe, the origin of the name with many variations in spelling was associated with the fabled Paeon, or Paeon, who cured the wounds of the gods in the Trojan war, as mentioned in the Iliad of the ancient Greek poet Homer.

In the Far East, the peony with its glorious colours was an inspiration to the poets of China in the misty past, while the common people were of a more practical turn of mind. As they do today, the inhabitants of northern Asia held and eat the roots of the peony and grind its seed to put into tea. The tubers of the common peony are also used as an internal medicine, being credited with wonderful properties for the cure of internal troubles, biliousness, colic, dropsy, convulsions, and hysteria. An infusion of the dried leaves is used successfully as an astringent for a hot weather internal complaint. Whether or not the old-world wonder of the hanging gardens of Babylon were made glorious by the splendour of the peony is unimportant, because the beauty of the peony has been recognized from time immemorial, and the fact remains that the peony is one of the most important perennials for the Canadian garden.

There are many amateur gardeners in Canada who justly boast of the length and beauty of their perennial border of peonies. Thirty feet of glorious bloom in a garden makes a rare and imposing show, and one worthy to be proud of. But what can be said of a third of a mile of the most beautiful peonies ever seen in Canada — 40,000 blooms in a breathtaking colour riot of ever-changing shades, white flecked with crimson, bronze and gold, red, dark red, pink, madder, fresh white all blended into one glorious kaleidoscope. This happened at the International Peony Show held in the Horticultural Building, Exhibition Ground, at Toronto on June 24th and 25th. The exhibition being held in co-operation with the Ontario Horticultural Society of Toronto, the Canadian Peony Society, several North American Societies of the Province of Ontario, and the American Peony Society. In this a record is created for the exhibition marks the 33rd annual exhibition of the American Peony Society and its first exhibition to be held in Canada. All the principal growers in Ontario giving their whole-hearted support for the success of the exhibition.

Appearance Is Most Important

Neglect of Personal Appearance Is Hazard When Job-Seeking

BOSTON — Elizabeth Gregg MacGibbon has made an intensive study of women and their jobs. Last year she traveled about 28,000 miles and talked before 50,000 women in 36 cities.

She says that though business women "may be rated mental giants with every qualification for their jobs, sheer ability won't help them half so much as keeping themselves free of the tell-tale marks of neglect or age."

"Theoretically," continued Mrs. MacGibbon, "a girl's appearance should have nothing to do with her getting and holding a job. Actually, however, it counts 75 per cent."

The head of the alumnae placement bureau of a well-known college has found that younger women are preferred and that older women are relegated to the sidelines of business life.

"I find myself fighting harder in behalf of these fading creatures than I do for those who suffer merely from their own neglect. I urge them to refuse to resign themselves to a useless old age. I try to instill in them the spirit of fighting youth. I tell them they have the balanced judgment of maturity which business men need in their assistants. And if they will bottle themselves in the matter of dress and spirits they may command far higher pay than the blithering thing who has no more than simple and sleeping youth to recommend her."

Egotism is more like an offense than a crime; though it is allowable to speak of yourself, provided nothing is advanced in favour; but I cannot help suspecting that those who abuse themselves are, in reality, angling for approbation. — Emerson.

HOW TO MAKE ICED TEA

Before the boiling process of Scotch Black Tea in a pint of fresh boiling water. After six minutes strain liquid into two-quart container. While hot, add 1½ cups of granulated sugar and the juice of 2 lemons. Stir well until sugar is dissolved. Fill container with cold water. Do not allow tea to cool before adding the cold water, otherwise liquid will become cloudy. Serve with chopped ice.

A U.S. Visitor Comes to Stay And Lo! Cottage Marooned

It is difficult to think of anything more harmful to the reputation of this district as a Summer vacation land than the complaint of an American visitor who was seeking a site for a Summer home that the Ontario Government has him on an island in a lake in Peterborough county in which there is no access either by road or water, comments the Peterborough Examiner.

If the facts are as stated the whole transaction should be quickly reviewed by the Government with a view to making amends to the complaining tourist. D. R. Tyrrell, of Fredericton, N.Y., who declares that when he was buying the island he was assured there was a fine road right to the lake, but after arriving with his wife and three children he has found that the nearest road is two miles away and it is impossible to get supplies into his property.

The official who handled this matter for the government undoubtedly knew why the land was being purchased.

If he knew the facts about the island in question he had no business selling it to a man who desired to build a Summer cottage, for obviously nobody wants a Summer home so situated that the only way into it is by air or by tramping through two miles of swampy bush.

On the contrary, if he did not know all about the property he was equally guilty of selling it for a purpose for which he did not know whether or not it was suited.

It is most unfortunate that such an incident should have arisen for it has proved a disappointment to a representative of the finest class of tourist any district could hope to obtain.

The man who comes in and purchases property, establishes a Summer home and returns year after year to spend the Summer with his family in the neighborhood is a splendid asset and should be given every encouragement and assistance.

It is upsetting to "ad stupidity in fiscal circles making a victim of a visitor who was entitled to special consideration, especially from the representatives of the Government of the province.

Labrador Indians Are Cheerful and Happy

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. — Declaring Indians of Labrador, although harassed by privation and of a nomadic nature, were nevertheless cheerful, Rev. Edward O'Brien of Northern Bay left St. John's to return to his mission for the 17th year.

The missionary said that not once during his 16 years in the north had he seen anything like prosperity among his parishioners, and attributed this mainly to the fact that the Indians were too busy supplying the need of their wandering families for food to be able to devote sufficient time to the fur industry.

Where can a man buy a cap for his knee?

Can his eyes be called an academy?

"Big Bill" in Canada

Notes The Bradford Expositor. — William Hale Thompson, popularly known as "Big Bill," who was Mayor of Chicago for 12 years, during which the finances of the city became hopelessly embarrassed so that it was impossible to provide even for civic services, is visiting Canada and has announced that he intends to establish a Summer residence in this country.

"Big Bill" became notorious for his famous speech in which he declared that the then King George should be given "a blow on the snout" for meddling in Chicago's affairs. No one ever seemed to know in what way His Majesty had meddled with Chicago, but that did not prevent Mayor Thompson from making a demagogic appeal to the voters of the city. However, his game ultimately played out, and he was driven into oblivion, where he has remained for a number of years.

Canadians will perhaps count it strange that he is coming over to establish a Summer home in the Georgian Bay district, in the late King's realm, on which he proposes to spend $25,000.

Australian Budget Surplus Is Record

CANBERRA, Australia. — A record budget surplus of £2,582,000 (about $17,810,000) for the year 1935-36 was announced recently by R. G. Casey, Treasurer of Australia.

It was the fifth consecutive surplus for the Commonwealth.

The showing was attributed mainly to increased customs and excise receipts totalling £2,200,000 (about $17,940,000).

Set the stakes and tie the plants before they come into bloom. A good job of staking that will not make the plant look stiff and obviously tied up can be done after it has come into bloom. For plants of lighter growth that are apt to sprawl and be of untidy habit, twigs or branches carefully applied make the best supports. The tall saplings need staking. If planted back and tied the tall types throw out branches and become pyramids of bloom. The long terminal spike is sacrificed but a much greater quantity of bloom and flower garden display is obtained. Get in a supply of stakes and give the plants known in need staking attention early in their career. The summer staking is attended to, the less obtrusive will it be when the plant reaches the maturity of its bloom.

Staked Plants Make For Orderly Garden

Property staked plants ensure an orderly garden. Lack of proper staking means that you are reasonably sure to have some wrecked and mangled plants later in the season. A heavy rain or wind storm is likely to knock over tall and heavy foliage plants which naturally have some not sufficient to stand up under such circumstances.

Delphiniums are first plants in the garden to show the need for staking. The heavy spikes of bloom on these stately perennials make them singularly susceptible to destruction by winds or heavy rains. Stake them before the buds start to open and save the beauty of the delphiniums. Gladioli with heavy spikes of bloom are likely to need stakes. Lilies and iris of the taller types also need this assistance. Tall African and French marginals are tipped over by the wind or rain and become a jungle. Staking would have saved them.

The first requisite of good staking is that the stakes should be strong and capable of holding up the plant, but as unobtrusively as possible. Green painted stakes are least conspicuous. The cheapest and most of recent stakes are the bamboo canes sold in varying lengths by dealers. They may be bought already pointed or in their natural color and you can paint them yourself. They are strong and durable. Recently heavy wire stakes have been offered and they are least obtrusive of all especially when painted green. Plants can be tied to them easily and hung upright so that the tying cannot be distinguished until viewed at close range.

Set the stakes and tie the plants before they come into bloom. A good job of staking that will not make the plant look stiff and obviously tied up can be done after it has come into bloom. For plants of lighter growth that are apt to sprawl and be of untidy habit, twigs or branches carefully applied make the best supports. The tall saplings need staking. If planted back and tied the tall types throw out branches and become pyramids of bloom. The long terminal spike is sacrificed but a much greater quantity of bloom and flower garden display is obtained. Many People Have Felt Like Murder At the Bridge Table

The august members of the court of appeal at Warsaw, capital of Poland, must be bridge players. If they aren't, bridge players everywhere will agree that they at least have a rare understanding of the emotional side of the game.

It seems that a Polish gentleman named Josef Hlas, having bid three no trump, played the hand and was not four tricks. His partner, instead of keeping quiet as a dummy should, criticized his play throughout the hand; so Mr. Hlas, overtaken by a strain as bridge player can bear, finally drew a revolver and shot his tentative partner through the shoulder.

In due course he was sentenced to three years in prison; and now the appellate court has reduced this sentence to two years, remarking that the trial court should have taken into account the excessive nervous strain under which the prisoner had been laboring.

Can any bridge player fail to salute these judicial gentlemen for the setting of a useful precedent?

Black Flies

Writes The Fort William Times-Journal—"Black flies are bad in the bush," said a man who spends a good deal of his holiday hours fishing. But what the average angler knows about black flies is nothing to what the entomologists of the department of agriculture have found out.

To the man in the woods a black fly is just a black fly, just as the yellow primrose was nothing but a yellow primrose to Wordsworth's idiot boy, or a rose is a rose to Gertrude Stein. He might think more about them if he were aware that the entomologists have counted no less than 28 species of black flies, and each one is more bloodthirsty than the other, no matter which you begin with.

Monkeys do not deserve front place among the blood-sucking insects of the bush, for the little monkey has the decency to give some warning of its approach by humming at the victim, while the black fly makes a silent and mean attack, and does a good deal more damage than the mosquito. In fact, it is quite possible to become inoculated with mosquito bites, so that the victim is immune to the poison, and the bite leaves never a trace behind.

Assign Children To Regular Duties For Their Vacation

Playtime Must Be Planned as Their Working Hours

Vacation must be faced. It is a campaign against time and idleness and if mothers don't marshal their resources—the children—for a little work, then Old Nick as usual, will.

Drifting from day to day and hoping for the best won't get us very far. The more idle the offspring, the busier and more nervous the parent, because life without any duties at all makes children cross and contrary.

So up in the cool of the morning they should be. And then, instead of answering Charlie's whistle or Polly's call, leaving the house to bedlam and to you, mother, have it understood that each one tackle his task at once. Old Nick is with the sweep (vacuum on Fridays), the mop and the scrub-brush. The floors are his, inside the house and out.

HOUSEWORK FOR BOYS

Fog must make her bed and the boys' straighten the rooms, dust and darken them. She can lay the table for lunch, early as it is, because by this time you have the kitchen and dining-room cleared up. Teach her to move quickly. She won't rush, don't worry, but a certain alacrity may be achieved.

Eustace gets on his bike and does the errands. Once a week he cuts the grass. But there isn't anything wrong with Oliver and his brother exchanging jobs once in a while. If they like, or even "swapping" with Fog, as long as they don't bother you about it.

What? Boys make beds and sweep floors and scrub steps? Why not? Yes, and even learn to cook and wash dishes. In fact, unless something important is pending, all three should help you with the after-meal clean-up pretty regularly. Many hands make light work.

Thus is the "work-time" budgeted. It can be changed, of course, to suit your fancy, and to fit the ages and capabilities of the children. The above is only a suggestion, of course, that may lead to ideas of your own.

By this time it is, let us say, about ten or ten-thirty o'clock. And in general, the rest of the day is theirs, unless there is some practicing to do.

DON'T INTERFERE WITH PLAY

And just as work-time is planned, play-time must have some attention also. Children need suggestions. It is not necessary to be an entertainment committee of one (and besides the youngsters don't want you "butting in," as they say), but it is easily possible to provide background, ideas, materials and well-hidden suggestions; at the same time leave them free to act independently as though they thought it all out themselves.

Boards, boxes, stones or old bricks will prove a veritable mine for experimental hands. Or some paint, a brush or two and very old clothes. There will be noise and clutter and most of the neighbors in, but this has to be accepted as another thing to be faced if the children are to be contented and happy.

It doesn't matter what idea you plant; it may have nothing to do with yards, or boards or paint. But fertile suggestion leads to busy, happy days, and the wise mother will turn inventor. Resource is a great asset in vacation time.

Issue No. 30 — '36

At the last session of the Dominion Parliament section 7 of Part I of the Dairy Industry Act was amended by adding the following subsection:—

"(2) On and after the first of January, 1937, no person shall manufacture, import into Canada, sell, offer or have in possession for sale any package cheese unless such package contains cheese of the full net weight of one-quarter pound, one half-pound, one pound or multiples thereof, but nothing in this subsection shall be held to apply to cheese of indeterminate weight manufactured by individual farmers and sold by them."

As explained in the House of Commons by Hon. J. C. Gardiner, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, the reason for the amendment had to do with the recommendations made by the Price Fixing Commission in 1935. One of these suggestions which had been discussed at some length was that prints of cheese offered for sale to the public should be made in multiples of a pound rather than in slices, say, of five ounces, six and a half ounces or seven and a half ounces. The amendment provides that the prints must be put up in either multiples of a pound or in divisions of a pound, such as a quarter of a pound or half a pound. The phrase "but nothing in this subsection shall be held to apply to cheese of indeterminate weight manufactured by individual farmers and sold by them" means that home-made cheese is not subject to this legislation. It can be any weight; it is not confined to multiples or divisions of a pound. The cheese, however, must be made by a farmer as well as sold by him.

SMITHVILLE

A twenty-three-year-old man who goes by the name of Robert Keeler, but who claims his right name is Robert Howard and that his home is in St. Thomas, is in St. Catharines hospital in a serious condition with a possible skull fracture and numerous head lacerations received in a fight along the Twenty road at what is known as Chippewa corner, late Monday afternoon. His two companions, Wesley York, aged 44, and Nick Silvey, or Sever, aged 28, both of St. Catharines, were placed under arrest by Provincial Constable Charles Wood, of St. Catharines, and removed to the county jail.

Residents of the vicinity held Silvey and York until Provincial Constable Wood arrived and placed them under arrest.

BEAMSVILLE

Miss Iva Bartlett has been appointed by the board of education to fill the vacancy on the public school staff recently held by Miss M. Royce. Miss Bartlett has been teaching at the Fairview school in Louth township the last three years.

A number of dairymen in the south section of the township have turned their milk herds into fields of immature out fields on account of the dried up pasture lands.

Mrs. W. D. Fairbrother and Mrs. M. McLeod (Toronto) have moved to New York for the coming week.

Cargill George, Jens Dorland and Betty Dorland, of the Indian reserve, are in the county jail and will likely be charged with disorderly conduct, being drunk and wounding. Constable Conby was called to the lakeshore Sunday afternoon to quell a bathing party row, in which it is alleged Dorland cut George in the hand with a knife.

Glen Culp, ten-year-old son of Howard Culp, concession one, Clinton township, was knocked off his bicycle near his home Friday night and injured by a car driven by a Vineland owner.

Four local citizens were added to the Vimy pilgrims when Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Mallwood and Norman and Mrs. Wilson left last week for Montreal.

GRIMSBY CENTRE

There have been several cases of red measles in this neighborhood.

A family gathering of much interest was held at Mr. David Pottinger's home, Courtland, Ontario, on July 1st, when the descendants of the late Mr. Samuel Sweet gathered to the number of over one hundred to enjoy a day of sports, games and renewing of old friends. Mr. Melvin Sweet accompanied Mrs. Isaac Southward, his sister, Mr. Sweet being the oldest member to attend.

Much sympathy is extended Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beck and also the Beck family in the loss of Mr. Beck's mother who passed away last Monday.

Mrs. Shumlin has been spending some time with her nephew, Mr. Cecil Goward and Billy Goward of Walkerville.

The annual Erb gathering was held at Mr. Edwin Joslin's home on Saturday last, with about 50 relatives present, those from a distance being Mr. & Mrs. Jack Erb, sons Dick and Dan; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ballantyne and the Misses Erb, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Erb, all of Stratford.

WINONA

The final score for the entire tournament was 3-2 in favour of Vineland.

The final tournament for the season will be held at Lakeshore, Beamsville, Saturday afternoon next, between St. John's and Lakeshore.

Portion of Intake At Lake Missing To Be Replaced

A recent examination of the intake, the steel pipe through which the water is received from the lake at the Grimsby Waterworks Filtration Plant and which extends 700 feet beyond the pier, indicated that three sections of the intake, each 25 feet in length, had disappeared and this accounted for the sand which has been coming into the plant and which led to an investigation being made. During the winter the ice broke free to the piping and when they broke away it is thought the missing portion of intake was carried with them.

The intake when installed cost $19,000 and was put in ten years ago. It has given excellent satisfaction, no expenditures having been required in that time. The water commission is at present securing figures from several well known Toronto firms, one of which installed the intake, as to the cost of replacing the missing section, which, it is estimated, will require the expenditure of several thousand dollars. The intake lies in seventeen feet of water at low water level.

Among the municipalities which this year have had a similar experience are, Chillingwood, Burlington, Oakville and Leamington.

The diver who inspected the intake also discovered that the grating on top of crib installed in connection with intake, had shifted and has been rectified.

RAPID PICKER

Something of a record in fruit picking is reported from the farm of Walter Davidson, Beamsville. Miss Irma Hombberger, one of his pickers, picked no fewer than 40 eleven quart baskets of Montmorency cherries in one day.

ONTARIO'S TOLL HIGH

wrote. The fact that city accidents are increasing faster than country accidents supports this conclusion.

Mr. Rickell remarked that the period covered by his figures ended before the beginning of the current campaign to persuade motorists to "try courtesy" being waged by Hon. T. E. McQueen, Minister of Highways.

"Statistics for the next four or five months will reveal to what extent the people of Ontario have heeded the plea of the minister," Mr. Rickell predicted. "We in the department know that the courteous motorist is the safe motorist. If Ontario's drivers will only 'try courtesy'—for a change, we are compelled to add—they will find that safety and security on the roads will automatically follow."

Figures for the last five months of the year were issued as follows:

	1935	1936
Accidents costing
100 and up	5,187	2,438
Deaths	158	140
Persons injured	2,889	2,932
Property damage	$298,628	$343,476

For the month of May there were increases under every heading. Accidents increased 10 per cent, deaths increased 10 per cent, injuries increased 10 per cent, and property damage increased 10 per cent. One quarter of all injured persons were children under 15 years.

"A ton of steel, hurtling through space at 25 or 45 miles an hour, has a terrific capacity for damage, destruction and death," Mr. Rickell summed up. "Motorists must remember that it is just such a weapon they have in their hands when they are driving their car. Let every driver 'Try Courtesy' until courtesy becomes a fixed habit. Then there will be very few accidents indeed."

LAWN BOWLING CLUB ACTIVE

The treasurer reported that so far the club financially had been able to meet all its obligations. Membership has increased this year, the ladies' section being particularly active. A motion was passed that a letter of appreciation be sent to the ladies for their work in decorating and improving the club rooms generally. The total membership to date numbers 46 of which 10 are ladies.

President J. H. Forman, with the approval of the executive, has issued instructions that membership rates for all new members wishing to join the club for the balance of the season will be $3.00 for men and $2.00 for ladies.

The greens committee and the property committee have worked diligently this year and are to be congratulated on the splendid condition in which they have kept the greens, the property committee having done considerable work in arranging new flower beds and generally beautifying the premises. Badly needed benches were also provided for the players and spectators.

the grand old 93rd Highlanders, and one of the first to come to the relief of the stricken city of Lucknow. He was also one of "The thin red line" of Crimean fame. Her grand-uncle, Major-General William Nairn Forbes, was the architect and builder of St. Paul's Cathedral in Calcutta and also of the Mint there, and in the Cathedral there is a marble bust of him.

Mrs. MacKinnon's sister was for many years connected with the largest newspaper in India, and Mrs. MacKinnon herself is a member of the Royal India Empire Society and the Country League in India (the head of which is the Maharajah of Dewar, a very enlightened man who recently lectured in America). This organization is composed of Princes, civil servants, military men and others, both natives of India and Britishers, banded together to train India and fit her for Home Rule under the British flag.

In the year 1933, Mrs. MacKinnon was made a member of the India Defence League which includes in its membership such men as Rudyard Kipling, Lord Howe, Winston Churchill, Lord Lloyd, Lord Carson; Lady Rhonda is also a member, also the Duchess of Atholl and many others of note. In January of 1933 Mrs. MacKinnon was sent out by the Association of Canadian Clubs (head office, Ottawa) to the Pacific Coast, addressing Canadian Clubs all the way across to Victoria and up Vancouver Island, and all the way back to Toronto. She also addressed the Rotary and other service clubs, and colleges while on this Western tour, necessitating in many cases, three lectures a day, and was informed by the Secretary of the Canadian Clubs that she has been the

"A PRINCE AMONG GOOD FELLOWS" (By Pat Haffey In Niagara Falls Review)

Niagara Falls in hockey for some twenty years or more has been plenty in the picture, as you've doubtless known before. But the mighty cog in puckdom in the City of "Big Dips" was the genial Eugene Fraser, with his smile and hearty grip. We recall the days of Queen Street when he was as tall and trim; Then they built the big arena—it's a monument to him— "A prince among good fellows" whether on or off the ice. Was the verdict of his buddies: they'd back him at any price. In the dying moments of a game and Niagara one goal down. Sure he seemed to come from nowhere; but oh, how he "came to town." A hero-worship object was "Big Gene," so fast but cool; How they used to rock the rafters when he'd score that winning goal. We've sung his praise and meant it throughout the glorious years; We're singing them again today, but doing it through tears. Now his hockey days are over, Gene has crossed the Big Divide; May the good God grant eternal rest to Niagara's Hockey Fryde.

Grimsby Lawn Bowling Club have announced that their 14th annual Fruit Tournament will be held this year on September 12th, commencing at 1.30 p.m. As usual the main prizes will be large boxes and hampers of choice fruits, with a large basket of fruit for each player and plenty of fruit for all to eat throughout the play. It is expected that this year's tournament will surpass all previous tournaments in number of outside entrants.

Grimsby softball teams had a disastrous week-end, last week. The Peach Queens went down to defeat at the hands of the Jordan Pond Lilies by a 3-2 score while out in St. Ann's the Peach Kings took an 18-7 lapping from the Galloping Ghosts of Gainsboro, with the Cocks brothers in the points.

I know something was going to happen to both teams, no stayed home. I figured the Queens would take it on the chin when they turned out in their snappy new uniforms of white overalls with red lettering and spiffy red shorts. New uniforms always hoodoo a team the first time worn. The Kings were bound to lose when "Honey" Shotton left the embarkation point in a clean shirt and smoking a two-for-five.

What a lot of gurgles and giggles the sports writers and hockey fans in old New York would get if they only knew where their defence playing last of many years is now located and what he is doing. If they only knew that the rough, tough and nasty defenceman of the Americans was in Grimsby and coaching a Indian softball team there would be a lot of merry guffaws along Broadway. We refer to Leo Reese, for many years a member of the Star-spangled team in the N.H.L.

Old Bill Fry, the Sage of Dunnville, is now crossing the Atlantic on his way to the Olympic games in Germany. This is William's fourth trip across the briny with Canadian sporting aggregations and on each and every occasion Bill has paid his own expenses, every penny. If you don't think so, he'll prove it to you by showing you his bank overdraft.
